

Sample Welcome Email Text

Dear New Member,

Welcome to the Wound, Ostomy and Continence Nurses Society! We are pleased you have decided to join our organization, and we value your input. Now that you are a member of WOCN, you have the opportunity to build and enhance your professional practice by expanding your education and knowledge base to new levels.

The WOCN Society fosters professional growth by providing the tools necessary to keep you up-to-date on the state of WOC care. We constantly evaluate and enhance the tools and resources provided to members by keeping up with the latest advances in science and technology, all designed to provide the information and skills your patients and employers demand. Membership benefits include Member Forums, the Annual Conference, WOCN Web site and publications such as the Journal of Wound, Ostomy and Continence Nursing. Members also have access to evidence-based guidelines and Clinical/ Professional Practice Best Practice documents.

Fact Sheets, Position Statements and many additional resources are available at www.wocn.org. Also, go to the Member Center section of the site to subscribe to the member forums today. You will receive your Journal of WOCN (JWOCN) directly from the publisher.

Please contact the National Office if you need any additional information. Once again, welcome to the WOCN!

Sincerely,
